CONCOURSE REALTY GROUP MEMBER HELPS BRING FIRST NEW YORK UNIVERSITY COURSE TO EUROPE

March 15, 2007 (New York). Managing Director, Stephen P. Peca, is helping New York University hold its first Real Estate Institute course outside of the U.S. In addition to his responsibilities at Concourse Realty Group, Peca is an adjunct professor at the school and will be leading a group of three professors to teach the Summer Institute in Real Estate Development in London the week of June 18~22, 2007 (www.scps.nyu.edu/rei-europe).

The European property market is burgeoning and investors are seeking methods and direction for their investments. The course has been successfully offered in New York for a number of years and is widely acclaimed. This course will show students the entire real estate development process – from idea and market research through construction and financing followed by asset and portfolio management. It is a course that students attending the New York City program have requested for several years be brought to Europe, said Peca.

This five-day course is designed for those interested in entering or further understanding the real estate development business, those whose careers involve them closely with development projects, and international students or professionals who seek an in-depth understanding of real estate development and investment.

Concourse Realty Group is a boutique firm that provides advisory and investment services to U.S. and international real estate owners, investors and lenders with transaction, portfolio and corporate management needs, as well as, equity investment businesses.
